Get In. Stay In. Keep Pretenders Out.

A Powerful Solution for Reaching the Inbox and Protecting your Reputation.

With deliverability tools and expert services from Return Path, you can make every email count, receive the response you deserve, and protect your customer communications.

Let's face it. You'd much rather spend time developing a great email campaign than worrying about deliverability. Return Path's powerful email monitoring and protection tools quickly identify problems interfering with campaign success, so you can put your attention where it's needed.

Our comprehensive tool set and team of email experts provide you with the knowledge and data to help you get more email delivered to the inbox, earn more responses and create a trusted email channel between you and your customers.

Get into the Inbox

The key to optimizing your inbox placement is to diagnose, analyze and solve root cause problems, while growing and expanding your email program. Sometimes this can be a full-time job—even if you know exactly what to look for.

With Return Path's Deliverability Monitoring Solution, you gain access to a team of email deliverability experts, our industry leading Deliverability Monitoring Suite and email data not available anywhere else.

Find out exactly which campaigns are being delivered to the inbox, what your inbox placement rate is, about your sender reputation and whether or not you are being blacklisted. Return Path's Deliverability Monitoring Solution has helped thousands of senders get into the inbox. Let us help you too.

- Campaign Preview: Test your creative before hitting send. See how your campaign will look in different email readers, web-based and mobile. Do your images display? Find out if the HTML or content will cause trouble with spam filters. Fix problems quickly—before sending your campaigns. Dramatically increase response rates and reduce complaints.
- Campaign Insight: Track where customers are reading your email and focus your email rendering resources. Campaign Insight provides visibility into where emails are viewed—desktop, mobile or webmail client—and which platform to focus your campaign efforts on to maximize response.

- Mailbox Monitor: Know for sure whether your email is reaching the inbox with Return Path's seed-list deliverability monitoring tool. The Mailbox Monitor seed list covers all of the top domains in the U.S., European, Canadian, Latin American, and Asia-Pacific markets. Mailbox Monitor confirms that your campaign email arrived, when, and what folder it was placed in by each ISP. It also validates the configuration of your sending infrastructure and authentication processes. Customizable email notifications help you proactively address ISP deliverability issues. You add the seed addresses to your lists. Return Path does the rest.
- Reputation Monitor: Filtering decisions are based on your Sender Score and sender reputation. Return Path's Reputation Monitor is the only sender reputation monitoring system on the market that uncovers the sending behavior that has the biggest impact on your inbox placement. By looking at a robust set of quantitative indicators and qualitative aspects of your email program, we can help find out why you are being bulked and what you can do to fix deliverability issues on an ISP-by-ISP basis.

Monitor seed list covers all of the top domains in the U.S., European, Canadian, Latin American, and Asia-Pacific markets.

Reputation Monitor goes beyond campaign-specific reporting, to give you data you can use to make meaningful changes that will improve the deliverability and inbox placement of your entire email program.

Plus, with Blacklist Alert, find out immediately if your outbound mail server IP addresses are placed on any of the important and significant blacklists and why, so you can get removed from the blacklist and get your email delivered straight to the inbox.

Get In and Stay In

Return Path's Certification Program is an exclusive whitelisting program that certifies the best senders from around the world and provides improved email deliverability to over 2 billion inboxes worldwide at Yahoo!, Hotmail, Comcast and hundreds more. Built on years of trust, our Certification Program certifies thousands of world class senders at four times more inboxes than any other accreditation program in the industry. Known for its high email standards, our Certification Program grants members with additional privileges to help increase response rates including images on and links automatically enabled at Yahoo! and Hotmail, and access to the latest in interactivity offered by our premium service partners.

Return Path Certification will not only help to get you into the inbox, it can help to keep you in.

Keep Pretenders Out

Return Path's Domain Assurance Solution can protect your brand against fraudulent email activity and put trust back in the email channel by blocking malicious emails purporting to be from you. A unique anti-spoofing and anti-phishing service, Domain Assurance stops emails pretending to come from your company at the gateway of ISPs and mailbox providers before they ever reach your customers.

Domain Assurance helps you stop spoofed and phishing emails from hurting your brand and customers.

The Domain Assurance Registry will ensure ISPs know exactly what email is coming from you and what is not. Domain Assurance helps you to tighten down the hatches and stop spoofed and phishing emails from hurting your brand or your customers
